

"Evers: building since 1918."

Michael Cansdale Graduate Construction Manager

Working at Evers:

I have worked for TJ Evers for six years gaining experience in constructing new projects such as luxury houses, village halls, large classroom blocks and sports facilities. I have also spent time working at head office in each department and I am now competent enough to carry out most task that are asked of me.

I have currently finished the design and build contract at Ernest Doe in Braintree, where I was responsible for managing sub-contractors to complete the project. I also take on general site management duties including weekly paperwork, material requisitioning and liaising with the client team. Financially I am very aware of how to minimise site costs by doing my utmost to reduce mistakes that can cost the company money. I also enjoy the site engineering side when setting the building out with co-ordinates.

University:

The management team at TJ Evers have assisted me throughout my five years at university and in the final year with my dissertation. It is recognised that completing the degree part time whilst working is the greatest way to gain experience, which I wholeheartedly agree with.

Courses:

TJ Evers have also given me the opportunity to complete courses such as site management safety and advanced setting out, both five day residential courses.

Outside of work:

I am engaged to my girlfriend and have recently moved into a three bedroom house in Colchester. I currently enjoy playing golf and spending time improving my home. I also like catching up with friends over a beer at the local pub.
